[en] You must surrender to its embrace if you want to live it intensely. This is what Livit, the new outdoor sectional sofa by Lievore Altherr Molina Studio, suggests: "A welcoming piece with soft cushions buoyed up by a slender aluminum frame, which equilibrates comfort and lightness with the aim of providing a blithesome relax". It is light and comfortable, but it does not give up in the least to that "timeless Mediterranean elegance", as its own designers define it. A couch especially designed so everyone enjoys "at ease".
